

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 12.

Miscellaneous Items.

George Francis Train said, some years ago, that he attempted to write books, and people called him a fool; that he took a prominent part in politics, and they returned the same verdict; that he undertook to uphold the American nation abroad, and he was still accused of folly. "I then turned my attention," he added, "to making money; I made it, and since no one has called me a fool." [Really Mr. Train must allow some exceptions. There are people who have called him a fool, rich or poor.]

A number of women living in the suburbs and outskirts of Boston have subscribed money for the purpose of building a club-house for their own convenience in a central part of the city. If, after going to a place of amusement or a social party, they do not wish to return home immediately, they desire a place where they can sleep and breakfast without the expense and publicity of a hotel. [This is modern civilization.]

At West Point, the number of graduates since 1802 has been 2,218, of whom 955 have died, and 1,276 are now living. New York has had the largest number of graduates, 353, whilst there have been from Pennsylvania 218, of Virginia, 150, from Massachusetts, 139. Of the total number, the New England States have had 408.

Joseph Eisele alias John Schafer, the murderer of Lillenthal, Tauter and Ulrich, and the would-be murderer of Major White, all of Parkersburg, West Va., was hanged on the 6th inst., in a field adjoining the Northwestern turnpike, about two miles out of town.

Beauregard distinguished himself the other day by quelling a panic in a crowded New Orleans theatre, caused by an alarm of fire.
